

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MONTANA
MISSOULA DIVISION

---

CHARLES ADAM FIECHTNER, SR.,                      CV 11-12-M-DWM-JCL

Plaintiff,

MOTOR VEHICLE COMMISSION, and BUTCH FIECHTNER,

Defendants.

I. INTRODUCTION AND IN FORMA PAUPERIS APPLICATION

On January 21, 2011, Plaintiff Charles Fiechtner, Sr. filed a Complaint together with a Motion to Proceed In Forma Pauperis under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). Fiechtner is proceeding pro se in this action.

A court may grant leave to proceed in forma pauperis if the applicant's affidavit sufficiently indicates that the applicant cannot pay court costs and still provide the necessities of life for himself and his family. Adkins v. E.I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., 335 U.S. 331, 339 (1948). It is well established that the district court has discretion in determining whether a litigant is entitled to proceed in forma pauperis. Weller v. Dickson, 314 F.2d 598, 600 (9th Cir. 1963).

The Court finds Fiechtner's Motion to Proceed In Forma Pauperis is incomplete, and does not provide the Court with sufficient financial information to determine whether he is eligible for the "privilege" of proceeding in forma pauperis. Weller, 314 F.2d at 600. Fiechtner has failed to provide answers to some of the questions asked on the application form, and some of the information he has provided is vague.

The Court notes that Fiechtner has seven other recently filed lawsuits pending in this Court identified as follows:

Fiechtner v. GEICO Ins., et al., CV 11-6-M-DWM-JCL
Fiechtner v. Peevey, et al., CV 11-7-M-DWM-JCL
Fiechtner v. Cookies Market/Garson, et al., CV 11-10-M-DWM-JCL
Fiechtner v. Bio Life Plasma, et al., CV 11-13-M-DWM-JCL
Fiechtner v. Maricopa Integrated Health System Emergency, et al.,
CV 11-14-M-DWM-JCL
Fiechtner v. Goldberg and Osborne, et al., CV 11-15-M-DWM-JCL
Fiechtner v. Highland Park Apts., et al., CV 11-16-M-DWM-JCL

Fiechtner's in forma pauperis applications filed in these referenced cases are similarly incomplete. By Order entered January 31, 2011, and filed in Fiechtner v. Peevey, et al., CV 11-7-M-DWM-JCL, the Court has directed Fiechtner to file a new in forma pauperis application on a form provided to him by the Court. Once Fiechtner files his new application in that case the Court will deem it as filed in each of Fiechtner's referenced cases for purposes of assessing Fiechtner's eligibility for proceeding in forma pauperis in those cases.

Despite the information missing from Fiechtner's present Motion to Proceed In Forma Pauperis, the Court finds that his motion and declaration otherwise satisfy the showing required by 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). Because it appears Fiechtner may lack sufficient funds to prosecute this action IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that his Motion to Proceed In Forma Pauperis is CONDITIONALLY GRANTED, subject to Fiechtner's compliance with the provisions of the January 31, 2011 Order entered in CV 11-7-M-DWM-JCL requiring him to file the Long Form application. At this juncture, this action may proceed without prepayment of the filing fee, and the Clerk of Court shall file Fiechtner's Complaint as of January 21, 2011.

Following review of Fiechtner's Long Form application the Court will reconsider whether he remains eligible to proceed in forma pauperis. If Fiechtner fails to file the Long Form, the conditional grant of his Motion to Proceed In Forma Pauperis will be subject to revocation.

Pending further review of Fiechtner's financial condition, the Court will proceed to consider whether his Complaint is subject to dismissal under the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2) below. The federal statute under which leave to proceed in forma pauperis is permitted requires the Court to conduct a preliminary screening of the allegations set forth in the Complaint. The statute states as follows:

(2) Notwithstanding any filing fee, or any portion thereof, that may have been paid, the court shall dismiss the case at any time if the court determines that—

(A) the allegation of poverty is untrue; or

(B) the action or appeal—

(i) is frivolous or malicious;

(ii) fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted; or

(iii) seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such relief.

28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). Accordingly, the Court will review Fiechtner's Complaint to consider whether it can survive dismissal under these provisions. See Huftile v. Miccio-Fonseca, 410 F.3d 1136, 1138, 1142 (9th Cir. 2005).

II. PLAINTIFF'S ALLEGATIONS

Fiechtner's Complaint advances a cause of action for violation of his "constitutional & civil rights" which have occurred "since 1986." For his supporting facts Fiechtner simply states: "self, identity theft & fraud, [and] stolen identity[.]" Fiechtner does not describe any further facts in support of his claims. Fiechtner proceeds to describe injuries he has allegedly suffered, and for his relief he seeks a remedy to "fix the system."

In the caption of the Complaint, Fiechtner identifies the "Motor Vehicle Commission" in New Jersey as the Defendant. But no operative allegations are made against the “Motor Vehicle Commission” in the body of the Complaint.

Rather, in the body of his Complaint Fiechtner identifies his Uncle, Butch Fiechtner, as the Defendant, but does not describe Butch Fiechtner’s specific involvement. Fiechtner has not stated any facts describing what each Defendant did which Fiechtner believes gives rise to their liability.

III. DISCUSSION

Because Fiechtner is proceeding pro se the Court must construe his pleading liberally, and the pleading is held "to less stringent standards than formal pleadings drafted by lawyers[.]” Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972). See also Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 330 n.9 (1989). Although the Court has authority to dismiss a defective pleading pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2), a district court should grant leave to amend even if no request to amend the pleading was made, unless it determines that the pleading could not possibly be cured by the allegation of other facts.

Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1127 (9th Cir. 2000) (quoting Doe v. United States, 58 F.3d 494, 497 (9th Cir. 1995)).

A. Jurisdiction

In addition to the grounds for dismissal set forth in 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2) above, to avoid dismissal Fiechtner’s Complaint must set forth sufficient allegations to invoke the jurisdiction of this Court. Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(1).<sup>1</sup>

Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction. They possess only that power authorized by Constitution and statute[.]... It is to be presumed that a cause lies outside this limited jurisdiction,... and the burden of establishing the contrary rests upon the party asserting jurisdiction[.]

Kokkonen v. Guardian Life Ins. of America, 511 U.S. 375, 377 (1994) (citations omitted). A plaintiff bears the burden to establish jurisdiction. Farmers Ins. Ex. v. Portage La Prairie Mut. Ins. Co., 907 F.2d 911, 912 (9th Cir. 1990).

Furthermore, the federal courts are obligated to independently examine their own jurisdiction. FW/PBS, Inc. v. City of Dallas, 493 U.S. 215, 231 (1990). And a district court may dismiss an action sua sponte whenever it appears that jurisdiction is lacking. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3); Fiedler v. Clark, 714 F.2d 77, 78-9 (9th Cir. 1983).

A federal court's jurisdiction is generally limited to cases involving diversity of citizenship (28 U.S.C. § 1332), a federal question (28 U.S.C. § 1331), or cases in which the United States is a party (28 U.S.C. §§ 1345 and 1346). Sections 1345 and 1346 are not applicable in this case because the United States is not a party to this action.

1. Diversity Jurisdiction

Diversity jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a) requires complete diversity of citizenship between the plaintiff and each of the defendants. Williams v. United Airlines, Inc., 500 F.3d 1019, 1025 (9th Cir. 2007) (citing Exxon Mobil Corp. v.

Allapattah Services, Inc., 545 U.S. 546, 553 (2005)). Each plaintiff must be a citizen of a different state than each of the defendants. Morris v. Princess Cruises, Inc. 236 F.3d 1061, 1067 (9th Cir. 2001).

Fiechtner has not plead any facts establishing either his citizenship, or the citizenship of each Defendant he intends to sue in this action. Therefore, Fiechtner has not presented sufficient information on which the Court can assess whether diversity jurisdiction exists under 28 U.S.C. § 1332.

2. Federal Question Jurisdiction

As presently pled, Fiechtner's Complaint also fails to set forth a clear basis for federal question jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331. Although Fiechtner refers generally to "constitutional & civil rights" violations, Fiechtner's Complaint does not expressly plead any cause of action arising under any specific provision of the United States Constitution, or the laws or treaties of the United States as required for jurisdiction under § 1331. If Fiechtner intends to plead a cause of action under the United States Constitution for a violation of his civil rights, then he must identify the specific constitutional right or rights he alleges Defendants violated.

Additionally, Fiechtner must identify Defendants as an entity and an individual against whom a viable federal cause of action can be asserted. The Court recognizes that Fiechtner's allegations purportedly name a New Jersey Motor Vehicle Commission, and Butch Fiechtner who may or may not be an officer or employee of that Commission or the State of New Jersey. In light of Fiechtner's reference to a governmental entity, the Court must consider whether Fiechtner's possible claims against the Defendants give rise to any federal claim which, in turn, would be a predicate basis for federal subject matter jurisdiction.

In considering Fiechtner's vague allegations against the Motor Vehicle Commission and Butch Fiechtner, the Court finds they could be liberally construed to assert a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Section 1983 states, in part, as follows:

Every person who, under color of any statute, ordinance, regulation, custom, or usage, of any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, subjects, or causes to be subjected, any citizen of the United States or other person within the jurisdiction thereof to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws, shall be liable to the party injured[.]

42 U.S.C. § 1983. Section 1983 is the vehicle through which a plaintiff can present claims under federal law against a state official or employee if the plaintiff can establish that the official or employee was acting under color of state law and deprived the plaintiff of a federal right.

Because Fiechtner does not elaborate further as to the Motor Vehicle Commission and Butch Fiechtner's conduct, and any events giving rise to this lawsuit, Fiechtner has failed to state a claim for relief under § 1983. He has failed to set forth allegations describing any conduct committed by these Defendants, acting under color of state law, which deprived Fiechtner of any right under either the United States Constitution or federal law. The Court will, however, afford Fiechtner an opportunity to amend his allegations to state a federal claim.

B. Venue

Federal law at 28 U.S.C. § 1391 sets forth the rules for determining the proper venue for cases filed in the federal courts. In general, the proper venue for an action in federal court is “(1) a judicial district where any defendant resides, if all defendants reside in the same State, (2) a judicial district in which a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred, or a substantial part of property that is the subject of the action is situated, [...] (3) a judicial district in which any defendant is subject to personal jurisdiction at the time the action is commenced, if there is no district in which the action may otherwise be brought.[,]” or (4) “a judicial district in which any defendant may be found, if there is no district in which the action may otherwise be brought.” 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a) and (b).

Under the circumstances of this case, Fiechtner’s allegations do not establish that venue is proper in Montana under any of the alternative provisions of § 1391. Fiechtner does not allege that all Defendants reside in the District of Montana. Additionally, at this stage of the pleadings Fiechtner’s allegations do not establish that all of the events or omissions that are the subject of this lawsuit occurred in the State of Montana. Instead, Fiechtner's allegations suggest the operative events or omissions occurred in the State of New Jersey. Finally, Fiechtner's allegations do not invoke the venue provisions in alternatives (3) or (4) listed above.

Absent sufficient allegations establishing that the District of Montana is the proper venue for this action, this lawsuit is subject to transfer or dismissal based on improper venue as provided under 28 U.S.C. § 1406(a). The district court has discretion in determining whether to either dismiss or transfer an action under § 1406(a). King v. Russell, 963 F.2d 1301, 1304 (9th Cir. 1992).

C. Short and Plain Statement of Jurisdiction, Venue, Claims and Relief

Fiechtner is advised that Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 8(a) requires “a short and plain statement of the grounds for the court’s jurisdiction,” “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief,” and “a demand for the relief sought.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a). For purposes of stating a claim for relief, a pleading need only “give the defendant fair notice of what the ... claim is and the grounds upon which it rests.” Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 93 (2007) (internal quotations and citations omitted).

Fiechtner must provide short and plain statements advising the Court of the following:

(1) what it is that the Motor Vehicle Commission and Butch Fiechtner each did or failed to do; and

(3) what injury Fiechtner suffered as a result of each Defendant's conduct.

Additionally, Fiechtner must set forth factual allegations establishing this Court's jurisdiction. Specifically, Fiechtner shall expressly plead:

(1) facts establishing diversity of citizenship, and that the matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $75,000. Fiechtner shall identify the State of which each Defendant is a citizen; or

(2) facts establishing that his claims arise under the United States Constitution or some other federally protected right. To the extent possible, Fiechtner shall identify the specific federal right plaintiff believes was violated by the conduct of each Defendant.

Finally, Fiechtner must plead facts which establish that the District of Montana is the proper venue for this action. Specifically, Fiechtner shall identify:

(1) the State in which Butch Fiechtner resides; and

(2) the State in which the events or omissions giving rise to his claims occurred.

IV. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, the Court finds Fiechtner's Complaint, as presently pled, is subject to dismissal for lack of jurisdiction, improper venue, and for failure to state a claim on which relief could be granted. In view of Fiechtner's pro se status, however, the Court will afford him an opportunity amend his allegations to cure the defects noted in this Order.

ACCORDINGLY, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that on or before February 11, 2011, Fiechtner shall file an amended complaint. The Clerk of Court is directed to provide him with a form for filing an amended complaint. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a), Fiechtner's amended complaint shall set forth a short and plain statement of (1) his claims against each individual defendant showing that he is entitled to relief, (2) the grounds for the court's jurisdiction over this action, and (3) the facts which indicate that the District of Montana is the proper venue for this lawsuit.

At all times during the pendency of this action, Fiechtner shall immediately advise the Court of any change of address and its effective date. Such notice shall be captioned "NOTICE OF CHANGE OF ADDRESS." Failure to file a NOTICE OF CHANGE OF ADDRESS may result in the dismissal of the action for failure to prosecute pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b).

Fiechtner is advised that his failure to prosecute this action, to comply with the Court's orders, or to comply with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure may also result in a recommendation that this case be dismissed with prejudice pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b). The Court may dismiss this case under Rule 41(b) sua sponte under certain circumstances. See, e.g., Link v. Wabash Railroad

Co., 370 U.S. 626, 633 (1962); Hells Canyon Preservation Council v. United States Forest Serv., 403 F.3d 683, 689 (9th Cir. 2005).
